2018 NEWSLETTER

Hello to you all and welcome back to our new year! Each year God blesses us more and more. Our motto this year is to not become bigger, but to become BETTER! Every new semester we like to send you all a newsletter attached to your registration forms. Please read all of this thoroughly. There are few changes, but some of you are new and we don't want you to be confused or feel left out.

Our schedule and payment requirements remain the same. Payments are due in full on the first day of each session month. If payment is not recieved in full and on time, your session or your childs session will not take place. A $25.00 late fee will be added to your dues each week that it has not been paid.

Little Red Barn does not reschedule or refund any cancelled or skipped sessions, even under circumstances such as: illness, emergencies, upcoming events. However, if Little Red Barn cancels on you, we will always reschedule.

This year we are excited to announce our newest edition- our Horse Lab! This is where ALL educational sessions will take place. LRB does not cancel due to rain or wet grounds. If riding does not take place, we will stay indoors. Last year we had much unfortunate cold weather, this caused many delays and cancellations. Unfortunately, this is completely out of our control and if we have to cancel due to snow, ice, hurricanes, we will not refund nor reschedule.

All riders are required to wear a long pant and a closed toe shoe. If the attire does match this criteria, we will not be allowed to teach your session.

PARENTS: We love you, and we know you love your kids! But remember why they are here at Little Red Barn. During sessions we will ask you to take a seat. Hold questions and comments until after each session. This is for your childs safety and for their attention to stay on their horse! If we ask for you to step out of the barn or away from the arena, do so respectfully. In the barn we will ask that you do not wear open toed shoes around the horses. Please take a seat and take a breath of fresh barn air.

What a great and fun year this will be! Looking forward to seeing and meeting you all!
